Board members discussed the Draft and the implications of the recommendations provided by the EWG. Concern was expressed regarding allowing private experience to count while allowing a new active permit holder to complete public accounting (attest) work. Others noted that a variety of experience types have been accepted in other states for many years, and most states follow the Uniform Accounting Act (UAA) that generally allows for other forms of experience to count towards the requirement. As requested, Board members will be provided an update on what other states require along with other information provided to the EWG members. The early consensus was to follow the EWG's recommendations at this point. The EWG and the Board are expected to have continuing discussions on the draft through this year with anticipation a Bill presented in the 2013 Legislature. Member Gutschewski offered to review wording of the draft with staff that appeared confusing to him.
